To All Primary English Language Teachers

Dear Teachers

The English Department of the Curriculum Section at Educational Development Centre would be grateful if you could trial and review the revised syllabus, fill in the feedback form at the end of the syllabus document and send it to Educational Development Centre before 27th January 2005.

The English Revised Syllabus is outcomes based syllabus: that is, it specifies what students know and what they can do as a result of instruction. Outcomes-based syllabuses are important because they establish clear standards which all students are expected to attain.

The syllabus focuses on helping students to develop the reading, writing, speaking and listening skills they need to cope with a wide variety of situations, especially those involved in education.

The new syllabus will help students learn more effectively not only in English, but also in other subjects across the curriculum.

Thank you

Fathimath Nahid Shakir
